

A COVID-19 EID

SACRIFICE QURBANI NOT YOUR HEALTH THIS EID

How to enjoy a safe Eid-ul-Adha based on the latest Public Health guidelines

CONSIDER DONATING YOUR QURBANI

Consider ordering online and donating your portion of the qurbani to those in need. If you decide to perform the sacrifice locally, only one healthy family member per household should visit the farm; they should wear a mask and 2m physical distancing should be maintained.

Note: There is no known risk of contracting COVID-19 from a sacrificed animal

BEGIN TAKBEERAT AT HOME

Follow takbeerat online before you come to the masjid and recite takbeerat on your way to the masjid. When you arrive at the masjid, takbeerat will only take place for a few minutes before the salah begins. Whisper the takbeerat quietly when you arrive to limit the release of respiratory particles.

WEAR A MASK AT ALL TIMES

Non-medical, cloth face coverings or masks should be worn at all times by all in attendance of the Eid salah, regardless of whether indoors or outdoors. Masks should cover your nose, mouth and chin.

SAVE THE HUGS AND KISSES FOR YOUR FAMILY

You do not need to physically distance from anyone within your predefined social circle or household bubble; however, please refrain from physical contact at the Eid Salah to avoid confusing others.

Greet those outside your social bubble from a 2m distance - try a wave or put your hand on your chest.

PRAY AT HOME IF IT IS NOT SAFE TO GO TO THE MASJID

To protect those most vulnerable in our community, pray Eid salah at home this Eid if:

- ⊗ You have COVID-19 symptoms, are awaiting results for COVID-19 testing, are under quarantine or isolation
- ⊗ You have travelled outside the province in the last two weeks
- ⊗ You are above 65 or have a chronic medical condition
- ⊗ You are unable to reliably wear a mask due to a chronic medical condition or disability*

*Supported by numerous fatwas from several Fiqh councils and bodies

KEEP GATHERING SIZES WITHIN REGIONAL LIMITS

When meeting others outside your household, meet outdoors, wear a mask and maintain physical distancing. Keep gatherings within regional limits. There are significant penalties for anyone not respecting local public health recommendations besides the risk posed to others' lives.
